Available as single units or multi-section buildings. CoverSix offers ammunition and explosive storage magazines from 50 sq. ft. to over 10,000 sq. ft. to meet your specific needs for the storage of ammunition and explosives.

OPTIONS MEET A VARIETY OF SPECS

CoverSix Magazines meet or exceed these specifications:

- DoD 5100.76M • AR 190-11 • OPNAVINST 5530.13C

RUGGED, SECURE BUILD

The exterior of CoverSix magazines, including walls, ceiling and door, are constructed from 3/4" steel by certified welders. The door includes tamper-proof hinges and dual padlocks with security hasps for added protection.

PREVENT MOISTURE & HEAT DAMAGE

Sidewall ventilation in these armories and storage magazines prevent the dampness and heating of stored explosives. Vents are screened to prevent pests and sparks from entering. The vents are shielded to maintain ballistic-resistance building envelope.

MEETS INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS

The interior of CoverSix armories are lined with a minimum of three layers of wood, meeting ASTM D6199. Wood lattice is installed over the protective wood lining to prevent explosives from being stacked directly against the side walls.

CUSTOMIZE YOUR ARMORY

Magazines and armories are custom-built to meet mission-specific needs. They can be outfitted with amenities to include shelving, weapons racks, counter tops, HVAC, explosive-proof lighting, clearing bullet trap, etc.
